

Rosslare Newsletter

Welcome to the December Edition of Rosslare Newsletter

Last year, we penned a little review of 2020, assuming in our foolish naivety that 2021 would bring us back to a world of bustling crowds, big weddings, drinking and dancing, and entire smiling faces on display! Well, the reality was quite different so maybe this year our optimism might be tinged with a little trepidation.

That said, the year was not without its highlights, as once again the community rallied to the rescue. As regulations forced the Centre to close our doors at several points throughout the year, our usual sources of income were severely depleted while our expenses continued to mount. We embarked on a series of fundraising efforts. To compensate for the periods of closure, we offered annual membership at a reduced rate and the response was overwhelming. We would like to thank all our members for their support and hope you enjoyed the benefits the Centre has to offer. Next up was our online April auction, which offered an amazing collection of lots, including art, pottery, dining, golfing and hotel experiences, raising an incredible €22,000. This event was only made possible by the community; the organising sub-committee, the donating artists and local businesses, and of course the all important bidders and buyers. A further €2,915 was raised through a raffle for a signed Dublin football jersey owned by renowned player Brian Fenton. One of our most popular fundraisers the annual Golf Classic came back with a bang and raised €8,900. Rosslare junior and senior soccer clubs took on the fundraising challenge and presented the centre with a cheque for €7,000. Our most recent fundraiser, a fashion fair held over the last weekend of November brought in over €1.5k, which goes directly to fund much needed replacement windows in the building. All of the proceeds raised were channelled directly into designated projects and the overall maintenance and improvement of our facilities. For more information please see our enclosed Annual Review. In September we were honoured to host a visit from Minister of State (Community Development) Joe O'Brien. This was swiftly followed by a visit from none other than Taoiseach Micheál Martin, who later commented on the facilities as "a great tribute to the work of centre manager Maria Gore and all the volunteers". All too many of us are facing the New Year without the presence of a treasured loved one in our lives, and we would like to pay tribute to all those we lost during 2021. May they rest in peace.

Wishing all of you a happy Christmas, and the very best for 2022
